It's Advent again. Our second pandemic Advent. Yet, it is different from the first. We are not as physically isolated, as a rule. We look forward to gathering in person and online each Sunday as we wait and prepare. We will be gathering together physically as well as spiritually for our traditional Christmas Eve service. Many of us are now vaccinated, something that was not even an option a year ago. We feel more confident gathering with some family and friends to celebrate and share the love of the season.

But all is not light and joy. We still hold much anxiety about the state of our world. We feel the need to plan more diligently and talk more carefully before welcoming others into our homes or accepting the invitations of others. Many are still getting sick and dying. Many are still looking for work that pays well and allows them a reasonable amount of safety. We are still at odds with each other over many things. There are still many suffering the effects of isolation and loneliness. We are still separated and in the dark in so many ways.

But that darkness is what Advent is for. It is a period of waiting, of hope, of knowing the promise of a light in the darkness is coming, but not yet seeing it. We can't skip straight to the joy of the birth of Christ. First, we wait. We recognize why Christ needed to be born among us. Why Christ still needs to be born among us.

In Advent, we hold the hope of the world as God desires it to be and our present realities simultaneously. Our joy in the birth is contingent on recognizing what it truly promises, not easy happiness and presents, but deep joy in the peace of God's justice, God's love fully embodied in the world and our lives.

Thank God we do not do this alone, hold our hope and our waiting. We wait with one another. We wait with those we know and those we don't. Those with us now and those who have preceded us in the faith. We are a community of the faithful, walking together, growing together, waiting together to birth God into the world.

Christmas Eve Worship Service

Our former sanctuary is available for our use on the evening of December 24 and the worship committee agreed that we should hold our traditional Christmas Eve service there this year. There will be room to invite guests to the service that will begin at 7:00pm, Friday, December 24, 2021. Anyone attending will be required to wear a mask, especially since we will sing Christmas carols!

This service will not be broadcast live or video recorded as all of the equipment needed for that is not easily moved and set up. A recorded service of some kind (maybe last year's?) will be posted on Facebook.

Congregational Meeting Following Worship on December 19

A congregational meeting will be held in person and via Zoom after worship on Sunday, December 19, 2021 to consider the proposed budget for 2022.

The congregation faithfully and generously responded with pledges that support most of the budget. The total spending of the proposed budget comes to $89,161, after some changes made at the Stewardship Council meeting on December 1. With the estimates of giving received by Consecration Sunday plus the expected income from gift card programs, our projected income is about $85,526.

The Stewardship Council recommends approving this unbalanced budget, stepping out in faith. There is surplus remaining from the 2021 budget to cover the proposed 2022 shortfall without using any income from the sale of the building. In addition, this is a year of many changes and unknowns. The budget proposed is what we think will be needed to live into God's call, but we will discover what some actual expenses are as we live more deeply into our call. We anticipate that the budget for 2023 will be both a better reflection of the costs of our ministry and balanced.

Please prayerfully consider the proposed budget in these days leading up to the Congregational Meeting.

Christmas Offering Supports Our Regional Ministries

IMAGINE
REVEALED

A special day offering of Disciples Mission Fund supporting the ministries of our Region

The Committee on Ministry members walk with leaders through the process of becoming Ordained or Commissioned Ministers. This Regional Committee is important to the vitality of the Region and the larger church. Below are two testimonials attesting to God's Love being revealed through this process.

"If Advent means "the arrival of a notable person, time or event", then my role serving on the Committee on Ministry is witnessing just that; experiencing the process (advent) of each candidate as they begin their journey into the ministry, whether through ordination or the commissioning process. Reading their Spiritual Autobiographies prior to their first meeting with our committee, following their progress, and interviewing them for ordination a few years later, we get to experience first-hand their spiritual growth and maturity until their birth. And for me personally, I receive much more from each individual than I have ever given to them. It is indeed an honor and privilege to be a part of this committee and to witness this advent from a front row seat."

– Sylvia Laidig

"In my many years of church service this has been one of the most enjoyable and rewarding committees to serve on. I've even enjoyed the preparation needed in reading papers and other documents. I will miss all of this but especially fellowship with the other committee members."

– Larry Pepper

Thank you for revealing God's Love in your offering to support the ministries we share through The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Illinois and Wisconsin. Your offerings make a difference! 100% of your gifts to the Christmas Offering support CCIW.

CCVP Christmas Past

We are coming up to our first celebration of Christ's birth as a "new" church in which we are renters with plans to recreate ourselves in the coming months. This reminded me of our first Christmas Eve celebration back in 1957. Our new Pastor, Rev. Harvey Lord and his lovely wife, May, both had exciting plans on the horizon for those looking for a new church home in Villa Park. Twenty-two Disciples belonging to other churches in Chicago and the western suburbs met in the basement of Ray and Sally Saatkamp for several weeks. Word got around and by the time they decided they would have to find a new place to worship in, several people were ready to attend. The Masonic temple offered their building for Sunday mornings only. A large room to be used as a sanctuary and small rooms for Sunday School filled our immediate needs. My family and I attended the second Sunday they were there and continued to do so through the years. Harvey wanted our first Christmas Eve service to begin at 11pm, I believe, and then the invitation to join would begin at midnight. Some of the men built a large tub, very heavy, which took several of them to carry it in for baptisms. Then they had to fill it with water. I do not know how they managed that, or later emptied it. Hmm... Well over a hundred people joined either by signing a list if previously baptized elsewhere, or being baptized for the first time. Open charter membership continued until the following Easter when the Charter was officially closed. As I recall there were around 224 who were charter members. The rented space for Sundays was filled up rapidly. Excitement permeated as we all contemplated what would come next. Harvey was a go-getter, full of impossible dreams that only happened by his dogged determination, and May's work with the women made for a very busy, and joyful process of creating the Christian Church of Villa Park. We are about the same number now as those who created a new church then. Isn't that interesting?
